

More Activities for toddlers

1. Finger paint or shaving cream on a piece of paper. Talk to your child about colors and encourage them to talk about what they are making. This works on fine motor skills and communication skills.
2. Sing a song with your child row row row your boat or old macdonald had a farm. This works on communication skills
3. Cut out shapes and have your child glue them to a piece of paper. This works on fine motor skills.
4. Walk, run, hop with your child. You can listen to music or just call the actions out and do them with your child. This works on gross motor and communication skills.
5. Go outside and talk to your child about what you see outside. Talk about trees, flowers and other objects. Point out shapes and colors. This works on communication skills.